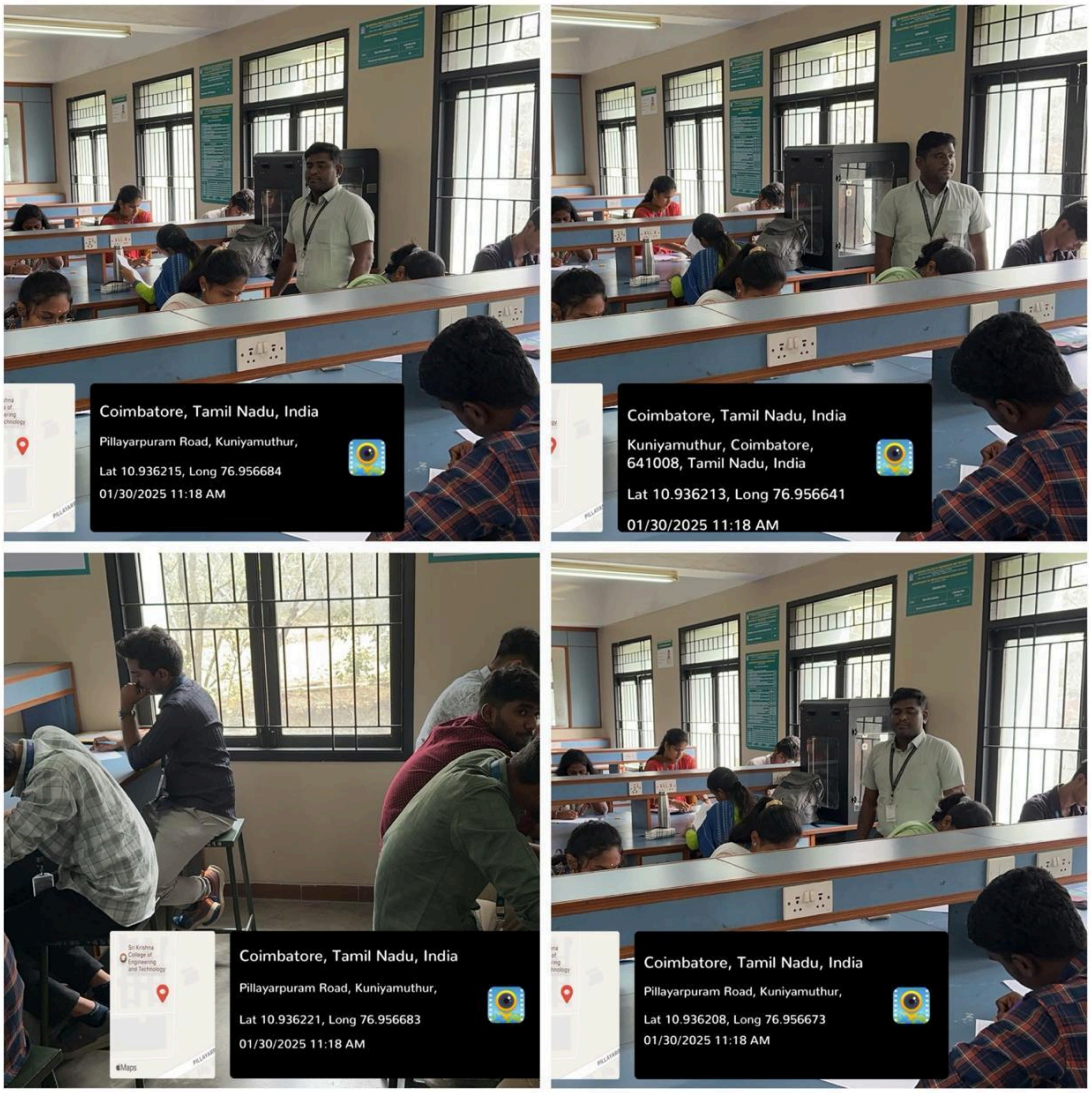
17.3.15 LIFE ON LAND

17.3.15 LIFE ON LAND

An Essay Writing Competition on the theme "Healing the Earth: A Call to Restore Our Land" was organized for our college students in association with the National Service Scheme (NSS). The event aimed to create awareness among students about the importance of protecting terrestrial ecosystems, conserving biodiversity, preventing deforestation, and restoring degraded lands.



The competition encouraged students to express their ideas and perspectives on environmental conservation, sustainable land management, afforestation, and the protection of wildlife. It also motivated students to recognize their responsibility in safeguarding natural resources and contributing towards a greener and healthier planet. The event promotes environmental responsibility and active student participation in restoring and protecting the Earth's ecosystems.

The event aimed to inspire young minds to become responsible environmental ambassadors and actively participate in activities that contribute to a sustainable future. It highlighted the significance of small individual initiatives, such as planting trees, reducing waste, conserving natural resources, and protecting local biodiversity, in achieving long-term environmental sustainability.

Overall, the event served as an effective platform for fostering environmental consciousness, encouraging innovative ideas, and strengthening students' commitment to protecting nature for present and future generations.

.

